

Colour me! Southern Flying Squirrel

Did you know? Flying squirrels are named because of their ability to glide from tree to tree. The southern flying squirrel eats a variety of nuts, seeds, berries and fungi. It is listed as a species-at-risk in the Grand River watershed.